

April Studio Class at the Senior Center

Newsletter by Elisha Kang

On Sunday, April 27, 2025, students from elementary through high school gathered at Brightview Fair Oaks Senior Center to share the gift of music with the senior residents. The event was organized by Dr. Joo's Piano Studio, with the help of student performers and volunteers from other local music studios.

A total of 14 students performed, showcasing their talents on the piano, cello, and violin. An additional 6 students volunteered to support the event in various ways. The program featured students from Dr. Joo's Piano Studio, Megan Shin's Cello Studio, and Yuna Kim's Violin Studio. These young musicians worked hard to prepare their pieces and performed beautifully for the senior audience.

The students arrived at 2:30 p.m. to set up and get ready. At 3:00 p.m., the concert began. President Tristan opened the event by welcoming the senior guests and introducing the mission of Music for All.20

After the performance, the seniors were deeply moved by the students' heartfelt music. It was a wonderful afternoon filled with music, connection, and joy. Great job to all the performers and volunteers for bringing happiness to the community
